

Edward P. Reilly has founded a Totowa, N.J., engineering consulting firm, Intelligent Building Solutions LLC, of which he is president. It specializes in mission-critical facility development and construction services. Reilly was vice president of Concept Technologies and Concept Construction Services, New York City, and also served as electrical director and chief electrical estimator for Tishman Realty & Construction Co. Inc.